Athletes Attacked At Executive Council Meeting

Steps Taken to Force Football Players To Buy ASSMC Cards

An intensive student body card ownership campaign that may result in open warfare between ASSMC members and non-members (mostly varsity football men) was decided upon at this week's meeting of the executive council.

Although the ASSMC constitution specifically states that membership in the student association is necessary for participation in football, executive council members felt themselves powerless to act in the situation; knowing full well that any action under existing circumstances would be useless.

John Sullivan, student body president, was appointed to contact Brother Albert, president of the college, regarding the possibilities of denying the athletes the right to exercise their preferred ticket privileges for the Saint Mary's-Santa Clara game.

Request Money

It was pointed out by Norman MacPhail, ASSMC treasurer, that several players had purchased student body cards only to request that their money be returned when they discovered that preferred tickets could be obtained without holding membership in the student association.

A committee consisting of William Fitzgerald, William Bettencourt and Sullivan was named by William Glackin, executive council chairman, for the purpose of pointing out the advantages of ASSMC membership, and for devising ways and means to increase the number of students in the association.

Bar Non-Members

A plan whereby non-members would be barred from all ASSMC sponsored events where no admisison charge is made, such as supper dances, was suggested by Alvin Quittman, COLLEGIAN editor. The idea was referred to the aforementioned committee for development.

Complete checks of persons participating in all extra-curricular activities aided by student body funds will be made immediately the council members agreed.

Committee Named

Replacing the budget committee, which was considered impractical, a finance committee of three men is to be appointed by Glackin late this week. The new group will pass on all financial matters before they are presented to the executive council for final approval.

Rally Notice!

Because Moraga highway is being repaired, persons coming in automobiles to the rally tonight are advised to continue past the crossroads to Lafayette, turning at Lafayette to Saint Mary's. Moraga highway is "dangerous but passable."

Treasurer Asks For Card Sales

ASSMC Membership Necessary to Obtain Book of Tickets

"Get your student body card" is once more the plea of Norman MacPhail, ASSMC treasurer, as he urged the students to get their cards before tomorrow's game.

"Either there is a lack of school spirit this year, or the students are finding other means of entering the game," MacPhail stated. "An investigation is to be made among the students during the coming week." No student will be given his book of tickets without first purchasing a student body card, MacPhail stated.

Lack of support is prevalent again this year from the non-resident students and the varsity football players.

With such a small amount of tickets sold this year, extra-curricular activities such as debating, dramatics, and social events will be curtailed, MacPhail indicated.

Cards are available from either MacPhail or Louis Guisto at the Co-op.

Round-Trip Train Fare for Loyola Game May Be $8.50

Possibility Remains That ASSMC May Be Given $6 Rate

Maybe student body leaders should have crossed their fingers when announcing at this week's rally-meeting that a train excursion to Los Angeles for the Loyola game could be had for a single round-trip fare of only $6.00.

"Maybe" because less than two hours had expired after the announcement had been made when an official of the Santa Fe railway arrived on the campus to throw a damper on the news.

Stating that the $6.00 fare was quoted without authorization, and violated the interstate commerce regulations, the Santa Fe representative announced that the special group rate for 100 students or more is $8.50—which still would be an extremely low rate.

It was pointed out by the official, however, that inasmuch as the $6.00 fare already had been quoted to the ASSMC, there is a slight possibility that the first-quoted rate will be given to Saint Mary's for the Loyola trip only.

Upon the urging of William Bettencourt and Ernest Russo, seniors representing the ASSMC in the matter, the Sante Fe official promised to do his utmost for the students and would send an immediate reply early next week.

The official was told that indications were evident that there would be little trouble in securing 100 students and friends of Saint Mary's for the excursion at $6.00.

If chartered, the ASSMC train probably would leave for Los Angeles late Friday night, October 7, or early Saturday morning.

TeachersAssociation Starts Lecture Series Here Wedneday

Opening lecture of a series to be sponsored by the Saint Mary's College Teachers' association will be given by Mr. William Simon next Wednesday evening in Dante hall. The course of lectures is to aid the students who are interested in teaching or coaching; and throughout the fall semester, former Saint Mary's students who are in their fifth year, or have finished five years of graduate work will be invited to come and lecture. Mr. Simon will review the value of public speaking and give some pointers on how to become proficient in the art.

Next Academy Will Honor Noted Landscape Painter

The already extensive collection of Keith paintings will be enlarged to within three times the present size if the plans of Brother Cornelius, art instructor, materialize.

To promote interest in the paintings of this artist, a Keith Academy will be held on the campus November 20, at which art enthusiasts will gather and view a number of paintings by Keith. Besides the permanent collection of the local gallery, other Keith paintings will be exhibited at this time, Brother Cornelius indicated.

A number of speakers will address the group during the academy and an open-forum discussion will ensue.

Brother Cornelius is recognized as an authority on the California landscape artist.

Flashy Snapshots Of Gael Guards Ready for Yearbook

Flash photographs of guards on the SM and bridge will be a feature of this year's Gael.

The cover design has been completed, and portrait photographs will begin as soon as possible.

In spite of the present lack of funds, the planning of the book continues, and layouts will soon be ready for presentation to the engraver.

Peter Lo Bianco assured the publication of the Gael, and expresed the wish of student support in signing up for one right away.

Two in Row?

That's what Leonard B. (Stub) Allison, coach of the favored California Bears, is asking himself on the eve of the early season "titantic" between the Gaels and the Bears tomorrow.

R-Ru-Rus-Russ-Russo

Introducing Ernest Russo, chief yell leader and chairman of tonight's rally-dance. Shattering a precedence, Russo announced that the yell leaders this year will wear red and blue sweaters.

"Poor Madigan!"

That's what Californians already are singing. The good Slipper, however, doesn't seem worried in this picture. Maybe the Mad Magician has something up his sleeve—again?

Honor Group Plans Initiation Rites

New Members Will Be Feted With Novel Ceremony

"Something different" is the definition given by President William Dooms of the APGU in describing the annual initiation of new members to the campus honor society to be held October 6.

Last year's initiation found new members parading the campus with wreaths on their heads, and other humorous items are to be added to this, Dooms indicated.

Initiates must have attained for two semesters a 2.0 grade point average and be engaged in some extra-curricular activity. Extra-curricular activities include COLLEGIAN work, debating, intramural sports, and athletics.

Candidates for this year's initiation are Algeo Brill, George Carter, and Robert Fleitz, Economics association; Budd Judd, John McCabe, Peter Crowley, Walter Calcagno, COLLEGIAN; Robert Egan, Joseph McGrath, debating; Gordon Simon, Victor Martinelli, Michael Mazaika, football; Harold Vogelsang, George Fernandez, baseball; Robert Bazzannella, Pre-Med club; John Cavanaugh, Sanctuary society; Le Roy Sarment, yell leader; and Francis Concannon.

The Alpha Phi Gamma Upsilon sponsors debating, dramatics, and the Brickpile.

Archbishop Mitty May Be Next American Cardinal

Archbishop John J. Mitty of San Francisco may be the next American cardinal, according to dispatches received here from New York City this week.

It was intimated that Archbishop Mitty is being favorably considered for the red hat. The Archbishop, now in New York, may remain there as the successor of Cardinal Hayes.

If such an action should take place, it is believed that Bishop Robert J. Armstrong of Sacramento, would be San Francisco's next archbishop.

The Archbishop came to San Francisco in 1935 upon the resignation of Archbishop Edward J. Hanna.

FRESHMEN PLAY PREPS TODAY

Last Minute Bulletin:

Saint Mary's frosh gridders will open their season this afternoon against Berkeley high at Berkeley. The game will start at 3:00 p.m.

Frank Gross, Berkeley mentor, requested the game after a Berkeley-Vallejo tilt was cancelled by the two schools. Malcom Fiese, coach of the Gaelets, obliged Gross and agreed to the game.

ASSMC cards will admit the bearers at a reduced rate of 15c.

2000 Gael Fans to Cheer Moragans Tonight at Rally in Gym--150 Couples Expected at Seniors' Post-Game Dance

Madigan Gym Affair Starts at 7:45; Flares Light-up Mt. Van SM

Two thousand football fans of the fighting Galloping Gaels, including students, alumni, and friends, will jam Madigan gymnasium to its steel rafters tonight in one of the peppiest and most spirited California rally-dances ever sponsored by the ASSMC.

Although California is favored by bettors to triumph over Saint Mary's, Gael supporters are hoping for another one of those typical Gael "upset" victories as was the case in 1936 when the Moraga Gallopers blasted the championship aspirations of the Golden Bears, 10-to-0.

Two thousand voices will attempt to yell their favorite sons to victory, after which the pre-game celebrants will conclude their festivities by dancing to Maestro Homer Cockrill's sweet-swing orchestra until 1 a.m. Saturday.

The rally will start at 7:45 p.m.

Heading the list of "on to victory" speakers will be President Brother Albert.

Delivers "Annual Message"

Like the president of the U. S. who annually reads a message to Congress, the everlasting Saint Mary's freshman, Judge Joseph Kennedy of Oakland, will

Berkeley Country Club Scene of Senior Class Function

Music, Maestro Morissey, please!

Such will be the theme song tomorrow night at the exclusive Berkeley golf and country club after the Saint Mary's-California football classic.

More than 150 Saint Mary's couples are expected to dance to Nick Morissey's scintillating rhythms at the senior class-sponsored affair, Co-chairmen Robert Fleitz and James Moore announced yesterday.

Dancing at the swanky and private Berkeley club will start at 9 p.m. and will not end until 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

First Affair at Club

This will be the first time that Saint Mary's ever has sponsored a post-California game dance or ever has sponsored any dance at the smart Berkeley club, Fleitz and Moore said.

The club is located on the most choice acreage in the bay area from the viewpoint of scenery, according to the co-chairmen.

On a clear night easily seen through the club's ballroom windows or from the greens of the club's luxurious golf course are the cities of San Francisco, San Rafael, Oakland, Berkeley, Rich-

Rival Colleges Sign Compact

Saint Mary's U. C. Presidents Form Permanent Agreement

As a result of the recent painting episode at the University of California by Saint Mary's students, a compact was drawn up and signed by the presidents of the two student body associations at a meeting early this week, President John L. Sullivan told the ASSMC at Wednesday's rally-meeting.

The signed compact follows:

"We, the representatives of our respective associated students, do hereby agree that the only objective for any pre-game spirit shall in the future be limited to the Big 'C' on the California campus and the Big 'SM' on the Saint Mary's campus.

"Any action by the students not in accordance with this agreement is to be regarded as unsportsmanlike and to be punished by dismissal from their respective student body organizations.

"To perpetuate this contract student body officers from each organization shall meet yearly not later than 10 days before the game in order to discuss the problem and find means of presenting it to their student bodies."

Presidents Sign

The agreement was signed by Alan Lindsay, ASUC president, and Sullivan.

Also at this week's special rally-meeting, Sullivan announced the necessity of every student purchasing a study body card and thus becoming a member of the ASSMC.

"The more student body cards sold, the more money the ASSMC will have . . . and this means more activities for the students," Sullivan said.

Plans Perfected by Women's Group Aiding in Campaign

Final organization meetings which gathered more than 125 leaders for the women's part in the drive to erase the college debt were held this week.

On September 19, more than eighty women from the San Francisco unit were addressed at the YMI headquarters in San Francisco by Brother Albert, Monsignor McElroy and Father White, who outlined the final instructions which the teams of women workers are to follow.

Mrs. A. S. Musante presided at this meeting.

The East bay contingent of women under the leadership of Mrs. Joseph A. Kennedy gathered at Hotel Leamington on Wednesday evening for committee and team organization.

Leaders from both San Francisco and Oakland will convene again this evening in San Francisco, where final instructions from chairladies for the drive which opens next Monday will be given.

Official

In order that an official report may be made to the University of California, no student book of rooter's tickets will be given out by the treasurer's office after 4 P.M. today.

VARSITY FINDS SELF IN UNDERDOG ROLE

Crowd of 65,000 Expected to See Favored U.C. Eleven Defeat Traditional Moraga Foe

By Bill Spehar

Underdogs at 2 to 1, and even money that California will win by seven points!

This is the role the Galloping Gaels find themselves in on the eve of their big game with the Bears. Tomorrow, before an expected crowd of 65,000,, the Red and Blue eleven will venture forth into Memorial stadium to avenge the 30-7 defeat inflicted by last year's Golden Bears.

Coach Slip Madigan likes the underdog role, since, he avers, that it takes the pressure off the squad and helps to make the boys fight to the limit to show the gamblers that the odds are undeserved.

Nevertheless, the majority seem to favor the champs and will stick by them until they are beaten, which Gael fans hope will be tomorrow.

Undoubtedly, this is one of the most important games in the nation since it will shed some light on the strength of this year's Gael squad, and will show whether California has the stuff to repeat last season's performance when they were rated as National Champions.

Whether Saint Mary's has the material to ascend to the prominent position it once held, and just how much Cal will miss the six departed regulars from the Golden Bears the game alone can tell.

Vic Bottari is expected to carry the load for the Bears. A brilliant runner and passer, Bottari is heralded as an All-American although he will not have Meek and Chapman blocking for him. If the Gaels are to stop the Bears, they must concentrate on Bottari.

Other returning regulars from last season's victorious Rose Bowl eleven are Bill Stoll and Dave De Varona,

Campus Guards Have Easy Life

Californians Fail To Appear for Beauty Treatment

With nothing more than a few false alarms, peace prevailed on the campus in the earlier part of this week as campus guards cautiously waited for University of California raiders.

The only exciting event took place on Tuesday morning, when with the freshmen on guard, an unknown sedan after slipping through the guards on the bridge, quickly turned back and broke through the barrier on the bridge to escape. The unwelcome visitor, according to the freshmen, was allowed to slip through the bridge so that he could be captured on the campus, but the raider realizing the danger quickly turned back and broke through the wooden barrier which was set up after he entered. Headlights and a fender were smashed on the speeding sedan, according to the freshmen who were on guard.

Guarding of the campus will be concluded tomorrow morning, according to Joseph Hurley, president of the Block SM society, and the freshmen will take over guarding of the campus for the last time this evening. Extra guards are being stationed on the various vantage points this evening, so as to prevent a last minute invasion by the Californians, Hurley stated.

Guarding of the campus has been under the supervision of the Block SM society.

Friends of Saint Mary's Organize Bank Drive Group

Not to be outdone by their president, the Hon. Richard M. Tobin, who is incidentally chairman of the Friends of Saint Mary's College, employees of the Hibernia Bank in San Francisco have cut out a share of work for themselves in aiding the fill up the fund-raising campaign.

When it was found that more than fifty per cent of the 125 employees of the bank were graduates of Christian Brothers' schools, a committee was appointed from among them to get them solidly behind the drive. Later a messenger came to Saint Mary's to ask for one hundred pledge cards.

Big Push in Fund Campaign Starts

Army of 1000 To Visit Northern California Homes

Beginning Sunday, September 25, and continuing through the week, a thousand men and women are calling upon 40,000 representative families of northern California to aid the Christian Brothers at Saint Mary's College in order that the outstanding debt on the college property might be reduced by at least $200,000.

Cards for prospective donors have been prepared and all prospects will be inivted to join in the association of "The Friends of Saint Mary's," which was recently formed with the initial purpose of raising this Jubilee fund.

Founded in San Francisco 75 years ago, the college has expanded during the years until now its several beautiful buildings are situated in an ideal setting in the Moraga valley at Contra Costa county.

Security Threatened

Its financial security, together with that of many other leading universities, received a serious setback during the several years of the late depression, but now the student body has increased considerably and when the Brothers at the college receive the help of their friends as a result of the present appeal, Saint Mary's will be in a position to

Madigan Writes For Brickpile

Magazine Will Make Initial Appearance Of Year on Tuesday

Featuring an article by Slip Madigan on defensive tactics of football, the Brickpile, student literary monthly, will make its initial appearance of the 1938 fall semester Tuesday, its editor Paul Johnson announced.

Also featured in this September issue will be articles by Karl Orth, of 1937 football fame, and Bill Dooms, president of the A.P.G.U., who will relate their summer experiences in prose. Orth will tell of his adventures on the Grand Coulee Dam, while Dooms will write of his experiences as a scullion on the Matsonia.

Other contributors are Brother V. Leo with a poem; Bill Kirkham, also with a poem and Joe Cone, who offers an interesting paper on Catholic schools. Tom Heidenreich '41, also contributes with "Cursed Curs," a satire on dogs.

Herschel Smyth '39, becomes author of the column "It's This Way," written last year by Jack Reilly of the class of '38.

The Brickpile will go on sale at the campus Co-op store about Wednesday. The price, as always, will be 10c.

Freshmen Choose Committee for "Thank You Dance"

The freshman class met for the first time this year to discuss plans for a dance to thank the sophomores for the welcome dance. The details for the "Thank You Dance" were placed in the hands of an elected committee of six. The results of the election have not yet been announced.

Other plans debated in this meeting were the guarding of the SM. Freshmen will stand guard Monday and Friday nights in two shifts.

tackles, Willard Dolman, end, and Dave Anderson, fullback. A new center trio consisting of Tommy Ray and Bill Plasch, guards, and Ralph Sauer, center, which has the herculean task of filling the shoes of Stockton, Evans, and Herwig.

Jack Smith, veteran, will hold down right end, while Louis Smith, former end, will cavort at right half. The only sophomore in the lineup will be Bill Elmore at quarterback.

Opposing Bottari for the starring role, will be Mike Klotovich, the Gaels' soph ace and a real triple-threat back. Klotovich is the "Moses" expected to lead the Moragans into the "promised land" which means a Sugar Bowl invitation. It seems that the Gaels have a sweet tooth this year, and Klotovich carries their hopes.

Other sophomores who will probably start are Dick Mesak at left guard, Ivan Pivaroff at left end, and Frank Freitas at right half. It is thought that Lou Rimassa, two-year veteran, may perform at right half instead of Freitas since Madigan rarely starts a sophomore if he has a capable veteran on the bench.

The third "Smith" to jog on the field tomorrow will be the Gaels' prime contender for All-American honors, Herbert Hoover Smith, the fullback.

Rounding out the Red and Blue eleven will be Mike Perrie, quarterback, Lavine Bettencourt, end, Nick Katzmeyer and George Cantwell, tackles, Ralph Jack, guard, and Jerry Dowd, center. These men are experienced veterans, so that inexperience should not affect the Moragans as it did in last year's tilt.

The reserve strength of both elevens is strong with Saint Mary's having a slight edge. They are well fortified in every position.

Ed Heffernan and Jack Sims, both excellent runners and passers, will spell Klotovich; while Andy Marefos and Jack Guthrie, sophomores, will fill in for Smith and Perrie, respectively.

In the line we find Jack Crampton and Bob Brusati, veteran ends; Wally Garard and Ray Ruddell, tackles; Ken Hardy and Tony Lucas, guards; and Milo Millicivich, center, ready for instant service.

Slip Madigan promises new suits for the opener, and the general consensus of opinion is that they will consist of the usual red silk pants, blue jerseys with white shoulders, and red helmets.

According to tradition this is Saint Mary's year, since Cal won last year and the Gaels triumphed in '36. At any rate it will be a rough, tough game with a close score.

Gael Gossip

by Jim Brady, Collegian Sports Editor

Don't sell the Galloping Gaels short tomorrow.

Although nation-wide odds favor the Bears two-to-one, the boys from Moraga will emerge on the long end of a 14-7 score, or so this department predicts.

The first team, which is rugged enough to play the whole game, is every bit as good as California's, and perhaps a little better. In the matter of reserves we are not so fortunate, having not as large a turnout, and on these reserves will rest the balance of power. But as long as the valley's first line of defense is in there pitching, you'll see Cal going backward, and fast.

If the Black and White backfield starts (Smith and Heffernan, Perrie and Freitas) there'll be the smoothest and most powerful functioning of a Gael team in several years. And with Klotovich, Rimassa, Guthrie and Matthews ready to step into their shoes, there shouldn't be any backfield trouble at all.

And look at that big line. Crampton, Katzmayer, Jack, Dowd, Mesak, Cantwell or Gerard, and Bettencourt. Not only big, but tough—and experienced, every man but Mesak being a letterman.

In the matter of punting, we have the greatest kicker in the country, Jerry Dowd. Not one of the greatest, but the greatest.

Open field runners? Heffernan, Klotovich, and Jackie Sims, the latter being the sensation of fall practice. And these three can also throw a pass with the best of them. To block for these shifty backs we have Mike Perrie, Frank Freitas, and Lou Rimassa. And finally to plow through that line for the extra few yards to the goal there is Herbert Hoover "Whitey" Smith, perhaps the finest fullback in the country, and surely tops on the coast, rated so by none other than Red Strader.

These are the Gaels that will be out there tomorrow afternoon in Strawberry Canyon, with the added incentive of wiping out that 30-7 win Cal scored last year.

Eire Oge Announces Athletic Heads

Hurley, Smith, Johnson, Haggerty, Get Coveted Managerial Posts

The executive committee of the Eige Oge, campus Irish society, last week announced its athletic managers for the coming year.

Softball manager will be Joe Hurley, who is also vice-president of the club. The softball team has already gotten under way with a win over the Dante club.

Gaelic football will be under the leadership of Herbert Smith, who last year managed the team in an undefeated season, climaxed by the winning of the Adolph Uhl Trophy from the Saint James team.

Two new teams will enter competition this year. Due to a challenge from the Italian club, a soccer club will be formed, under the management of Jorgen Johnson O'Connell, an all-city soccer player from Los Angeles. Basketball will also be played this year, with Leo Haggerty at the helm.

Soccer, Gaelic football, and basketball will not come until the spring semester, hence softball will be supreme until the rains come. Manager Hurley states that the Eire Oge team is open to any and all challenges from authorized and unauthorized campus organizations.

Gael Divoters Construct Golf Driving Range

The Saint Mary's golf team, under the management of Bill Dooms, last week started construction of a driving practice range, which will be finished and ready for use early next week.

The range is being built solely by the team members, with a truck being loaned by the comptroller to assist in the project.

The idea was first conceived by Minor Sports Director Mal Fiese, and has been rapidly adopted by the Gael golfers. Any expenses incurred will also be taken care of by the team.

Juniors on Top In Softball Race

Slugging Third-Year Team Wallops Three Frosh Pitchers, 22 to 5

Clubbing out eighteen hits and twenty-two runs off three frosh pitchers, the free-hitting junior softball team virtually cinched first half honors, having only to defeat the seniors to cop the flag. The final score, 22-5.

The yearlings scored first, sending two runs across the plate on hits by Garvey and Buck in the first inning, but in their half of the same canto, the winners knotted the count and were never in danger from that point in.

Burns in Third Win

Eddie Burns, the speedball king, chalked up his third successive win of the season, bearing down only in the first few innings. He allowed but eight hits, going the last four rounds under wraps.

Hitting honors went to ballhawk Charley Peterson, junior left-fielder, who had a perfect day at bat with four out of four, two of them being round trippers.

The juniors can do no worse than a tie, and are heavily favored at this time to win. Comparative performances place the younger team on top. Both have defeated the freshmen, but the juniors won from the sophomores, who edged out the seniors.

New Grid Expert Picks Gaels, Troy

Smitty, the COLLEGIAN staff grid expert, and one of the top prognosticators in this area, picks the Gaels over Cal and goes on to pick other winners, on the coast and elsewhere.

SAINT MARY'S VS. CALIFORNIA—

It looks like the Gaels all the way, due to superior blocking and individual man power. Cal will miss last year's Meek, Herwig, and Chapman, while the Gaels will be strengthened by Klotovich, Heffernan, and Garard. FUMBLES CAL'S BIGGEST OPPONENT. Score 13-0.

USC VS. ALABAMA—

Troy is on the way up and the 'Bama boys will meet a barrage of power plus a bag full of the old Jones deception. Alabama will have its hands full with Schindler and Lansdell. Score 14-6.

WASHINGTON VS. MINNESOTA—

The Gophers will bow in defeat to the Huskies, after a hard fought battle. The superior kicking of the Huskies will be their chief asset. Score 19-7.

OREGON VS. WASHINGTON STATE

Although an upset is possible, all evidence points to a victory for the Webfeet. Last year's encounter was closer than the present one will be. Oregon by two tallies. Score 13-0.

IDAHO VS. OREGON STATE—

Vandals due to score a much earned victory. While the Beavers are strong opponents, Idaho should triumph by a small margin. Score 13-9.

Water Poloists Meet Cal Frosh Tuesday

Opening Game Set For Four O'clock At Berkeley Pool

The newly organized Saint Mary's water polo team will have their baptism of fire next Tuesday at four o'clock when scrimmage is scheduled with Jim Shields' California frosh. The game will take place at the Berkeley pool.

As yet, the Gaels have had no practice sessions, due to the delay in the receipt of the ball from Oakland. As soon as the ball arrives, an attempt will be made to get in shape for the game.

Moragans Novices

Most of the Moraga swimmers are novices, with the exception of Mike Desmond, Jack Bodutch, Ilo Scatena, Murray Brannen, and Dick Hester, who have had some experience at the game.

Swimming manager Al Speckens yesterday announced his probable starting lineup, but said that there may be changes before game time.

The lineup:

Goalie—Dick Hester.

Back—Ilo Scatena, Herchel Smyth.

Center—Bud Smith.

Forward—Mike Desmond, Jack Bodutch.

Speckens also announced that Desmond will captain the team in the first encounter.

Portland U Opens Against Pacific Tomorrow Night

PORTLAND, ORE., Sept. 23.—Portland University's Pilots this week wound up practice sessions in preparation for tomorrow's opener with the Pacific University Badgers.

It is expected that the Pilots will fill the air with passes, having one of the coast's most consistent passers, Frank Maloney.

Pacific is as heavy and as experienced as Portland, and should put up a much tougher struggle than last year, when the Pilots romped to a 36-0 victory.

Foudy Lauds Radio Forecast

"One of the stellar football critics of the nation, and a great booster for Saint Mary's, says Tom Foudy, athletic publicity director of Eddie Dooley, who is signed by the Chesterfield program in a new series of broadcasts over the red and blue networks of the N.B.C.

Dooley makes forecasts at 9:30 p.m. each Thursday, and gives the last-minute scores at 5:45 on Saturdays.

On Wednesdays the new series on the Columbia network will feature Paul Whiteman's dance music and novelties at 8:30 p.m.

On Fridays, Tony Martin, erstwhile Gael musician, teams up with the national nit-wits, Burns and Allen, with Ray Noble's orchestra as background.

Phoenix Play In Winter League

The Saint Mary's Phoenix baseball team, last year's Berkeley Winter League champions, will again take part in the annual tourney this year, beginning October 2.

A warmup game will be played Sunday against the Franco's Market team at the Santa Clara field.

SHADOWING the GAELS

By TOM FEENEY · Assistant Sports Editor

The splurge of betting on tomorrow's contest (aided by Tuesday's scrimmage) will tax many pockets if we are upset and lose.

It'll be a cold winter for the boys around the White City, if the gridders don't come home with the Bear skin Saturday afternoon!

Which Way, Pal?

Joe Ruetz tells a story that he picked up from Bo McMillin during his stay with the All-Stars in Chicago.

McMillin was explaining how Bernie Bierman of Minnesota selected his grid talent.

He (Bierman) would drive along out-of-way roads and at each farm he passed he would inquire the direction to the nearest town from one of the strong help plowing the field.

If the lad pointed in a direction with his fingers Bierman would thank him and continue on his way.

But if the farm-hand lifted the plow out of the ground to point the direction, Bierman would produce a contract and tell him how wonderful Minnesota was.

Rock and Sock

Says Red Strader, affable assistant coach:

"What I like best about our outfit this year is the "rock and sock" they possess as exhibited in last Tuesday's workout.

"The boys, I believe, are ready. They had a good spring practice and the last two weeks have conditioned them well for the game.

"A word about the spirit will not be hearsay, since the zest manifested in the workouts has been particularly encouraging.

"This year's outfit is vastly improved over last year's team and has much better reserve strength. This latter will be a great aid in the game.

"We're ready, so is Cal, thus it ought to be a real battle, but . . .

"WE'LL WIN."

Jack's Dreams . . .

Ralph Jack, senior guard, reports that he hasn't been having any dreams lately, particularly any like last year.

Before the opener last season, he was the victim of a dream that predicted that Saint Mary's would defeat Cal, Santa Clara, and Fordham. (There's no need to rejuvenate the scores of those games.)

This year, he hasn't communicated with his Rumanian ancestors as yet, but if he does, reverse the results of the seance and you have a cinch!

Two Grid Changes

For the first time, the Rules Committee for American Football have not whipped out several complicated and intricate rules for the current season.

"Lessen the strength of the defense and open up the offense" is the policy now.

The new rules are:

1. An incomplete pass over the goal line will not result in a touchback unless, the pass was on fourth down.

2. A ball going out of bounds or ruled dead within 15 yards of the sidelines will be put in play 15 yards from the outside markers.

Grid Grunts . . .

It is not true that "Screaming" Jim Matthews, fullback, shaved his head because a girl jilted him.

Wally Garard won't start the Bear game, but when the game gets tough, watch him get off the bench.

Mike Perrie, quarterback, challenges George Cantwell's title as the best swing exponent on the football squad. At the Post-Cal dance, Perrie says he'll exemplify his repertoire of fancy dances.

Add to the Kampus Karacters, one Frank O'Rourke, football trainer and love of the gridders' hearts.

The Moleskin Maulers believe that Twomey must be an angel—cause he's n d—— good on earth!

John Nito, Portugese janitor in the frosh dorm, picks Saint Mary's to win. We will lick them for sure now!

Slip's Kennel club: prominent nominees into this infamous society are Dante Magnani, right halfback, and Primo Brusati, left end.

Starting Lineups

Saint Mary's		California
Bettencourt	Right end	J. Smith
Katzmeyer	Right tackle	De Varona
Jack	Right guard	Plash
Dowd	Center	Sauer

All-American?

Whitey Smith, fullback, and Jerry Dowd, center, two of the outstanding Gael All-US team candidates. Both will be seen in action tomorrow against California.

Gaelet Mentor To Name Starters

Squad Rounds Into Shape For October 9 Opener

Frosh football coach Mal Fiese yesterday announced that he will name his starting lineup for the opener October 9 with the San Francisco Boys' Club a week from today.

The squad is gradually rounding into shape, although Fiese has no definite plans on who will start.

Joe Trankala, midget left-half from Alhambra, is proving the sensation of the backs with his running, passing, and kicking. The varsity had trouble in stopping this 150-pounder in scrimmage last Saturday.

Fiese Triple Threat

Right behind Trankala is Bill Fiese, who is also a triple-threater.

At right half, there is a wealth of first-class material, with Jim Lankas and Jim McPartland fighting it out for first string honors.

Jack Boysen, who is temporarily hospitalized, will also be in there when it comes to starting at the position. Fiese has plans of using McPartland at both right and left halfback when the season gets under way.

Three fullbacks are neck and neck, with Pellegrini, Keyer, and Walters in line for first string.

Tackles are especially strong. At the right side, there is Morris Charters, Nick Seminoff and Owen Henson, one as good as the other. Al Ward seems destined to see a lot of action at left tackle, ably backed up by Bill Muldoon.

The guard situation is still somewhat of a mystery with Zubey, Castagnola, Mackin, Flannery, Clasen and Menetrey all playing the position at either the right or left sides.

Carpenter and Sheafe—that one of these two will get the starting center assignment is as near a certainty as anything can be on this squad, although Klappenburg and Parker are by no means outclassed.

Ends All Good

At ends, there are Denneson, Reginato, Poet, and Brusati, all good ballplayers.

Quarterback presents no difficulty with Arabian and Snelling alternating at present and Brady right behind them. It looks as though Arabian will start, as the ambling Armenian has been going great guns in the varsity scrimmage.

With such abundant material in the line, and fewer but more brilliant talent in the backfield, Coach Fiese indicated that an undefeated season is not altogether an impossibility.

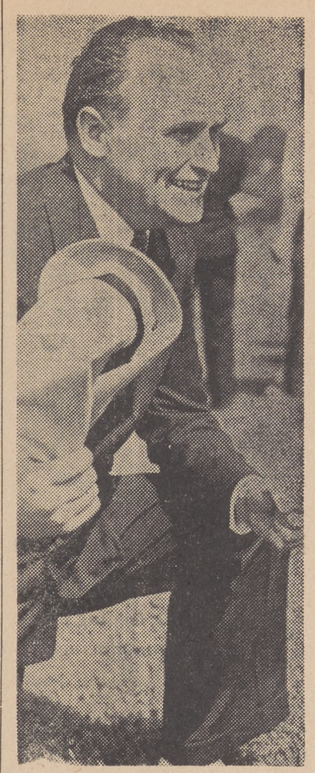
Latuda Appointed Baseball Manager

Bud Latuda, junior student from Trinidad, Colorado, and last semester pool champ, was last week appointed head manager of the Saint Mary's Phoenix baseball team, by Coach Carl Sheely.

Latuda was assistant manager of the Phoenix in his freshman year. He will take over the duties of head manager immediately, as the team has again been entered in the Berkeley Winter League, starting a week from Sunday.

Ex-Gael Gridder To Cover Game

Tony "The Hawk" Falkenstein, three-year letterman on the Galloping Gaels of Saint Mary's, will next week give his impressions of tomorrow's game in these pages.



"Slip" Smiles

Coach Madigan, whose eighteenth season as coach of the Gaels gets under way officially tomorrow afternoon, when his charges face the California Bears in one of the nation's most crucial early-season encounters.

Maxham Line Coach at Whittier

Floyd Maxham, fullback on the Saint Mary's teams from 1933-36, has been named line coach of the Whittier College Poets in Southern California.

Maxham has coached at Cathedral High in Los Angeles, and has been prominent in six-man football activity in the same city.

Campus Opinions On Bear Game

By Jack Crampton

Following are random campus opinions on tomorrow's grid titanic between Saint Mary's and California:

JERRY DOWD:
"It will be a hard fought game but the Gaels will come out on the long end of the score."

GEORGE CANTWELL:
"If the saying is true that the game is won on the practice field, then we should win very easily."

HENRY NUETZEL:
"Saint Mary's will win 21-to-7."

MIKE PERRY:
"It will be a close battle but Saint Mary's will win because of its hard charging line."

FRANK MADERAS:
"I think Saint Mary's will win 14 to 0."

KEN HARDY:
"We will have a fifty-fifty chance, with the breaks deciding the game."

BOB BRUSATI:
"The Gaels are a vastly improved outfit and should come out on top."

DICK MESAK:
"I think we will win because of . . ., well, we'll know more about it after September 24."

TOM TWOMEY:
"The team that fights the hardest will win."

LAVINE BETTENCOURT:
"The best team will win, and that team will be the Galloping Gaels."

TONY LUCAS:
"We are a tough bunch this year and will be hard to beat."

MIKE KLOTOVICH:
"Saint Mary's will win 10 to 7."

HERB SMITH:
"Gaels 7; Cal 0."

Gael Gossip

other bay area ex-Gael mentors, having trimmed Boyle at Antioch, Lester at Balboa, and Fischer at Commerce, without permitting their opponents the consolation of a single touchtown.

C. Wilson Locke, '31, is running for justice of the peace of the tenth township, San Pablo.

Next week, in these pages, an ex-Gael gridder's reactions to the Cal game will be given when Tony Falkenstein turns sports writer.

Buck Shaw of the Broncos is giving his boys "cold pills" to keep them immune from fall and winter sniffles.

Those San Franciscans who are jumping on Doug Corrigan because of his refusal to appear with Roy Riegels seems to forget that Riegels turned down the offer first, then changed his mind, according to reports. These Irish are a sensitive people.

Something new will be seen on the campus next week when the golf team will have finished its No. 1 project of the semester, the building of a driving range.

The tees will be placed on a mound near the bridge at the entrance of the college and the range will extend towards the railroad station.

Credit for the idea belongs to Mal Fiese, who conceived it, and to Bill Dooms and his golfers, who carried it out.

2000 Gael Fans to Cheer Varsity Tonight at Rally---150 Couples Expected at Post-Game Dance

Madigan Gym Affair Starts at 7:45; Flares Light Up Mt. Van deliver his annual "beat California" message to tonight's throng.

Coach Edward Madigan will tell of his team's prospects in tomorrow's game.

Other speakers include two Oakland sports scribes who view things through Red and Blue colored glasses—Al Santoro of the Post-Enquirer and Alan Ward of the Oakland Tribune.

Norman (Red) Strader, assistant coach, will be scouting the USF Dons and thus will not be present, according to Chairman Ernest Russo.

In a spirit of friendly rivalry, Miss Evelyn Titus, vice-president of the Associated Students of the University of California, yesterday accepted an invitation to speak at tonight's rally, Russo announced.

Following Miss Titus, President John L. Sullivan will speak, representing Saint Mary's.

Between speeches and yells, selections by Cockrill's orchestra and individual entertainment numbers will appear on the program.

Miss McGuiness to Sing

Miss Dorothy McGuiness, Cockrill's lovely and tantalizing vocalist, will sing "A-Tisket A-Tasket" and "Rocket for Me" in addition to doing a Spanish waltz during the rally.

Donald Fraga, ace trumpet swingster of the orchestra, will solo "The Carnival of Venice."

Kenneth Deehan, a senior, will whistle "Music Maestro Please" with "Today's Music Tonight" playing the musical background. James Brady, a junior, will represent the Eire Oge by singing an Irish selection. He will be accompanied at the Baldwin by Thomas Coyne of the freshman class.

Coyne himself will play several selections during the rally.

The youthful drum major of the Saint Mary's band who was a big hit at last year's rally, Clyde Mencke, again will put on an exhibition with his baton.

Secret Decorations

Gymnasium decorations will be completed by the rally committee this morning, Russo said. Motif of the decorations will be kept a secret until tonight. "It's the first time this scheme has ever been tried in our gymnasium," Russo announced.

During the intermission at approximately 10 o'clock between the rally and dance, flares out-lining the block SM on Mount Van will be lighted. Following this display, dancing in the gymnasium will commence.

Admission to the dance will be free to all women, while gentlemen will pay a fee of 50 cents.

Invitations to attend were extended this week by Secretary William Kirkham to Holy Names, Dominican, and Mills colleges, and to the Newman clubs of California and San Francisco junior college.

Appoint Committee

A special committee will be appointed today by Brother Patrick and President Sullivan to handle parking facilities and to watch the dormitories. Machines will be permitted to park in the quad and on the roadway leading to the gymnasium. No parking will be permitted to the right of Dante hall and no trespassing to the dormitories will be allowed save to boarders after the rally.

The rally committee will be in charge of the check room, flood lights, and will collect the dance admissions.

Louis Guisto's co-op will be in charge of the sale of refreshments at the dance.

All cars entering the campus will be stopped at the bridge by the freshmen who will be guarding the campus from California invaders. In order to expedite matters, students are asked to present their student body cards at the bridge.

When leaving the campus after the rally, no excessive noise will be tolerated as this year the varsity will remain on the campus. Students are asked to co-operate in this matter for the good of future California rally-dances, Russo said.

On the rally-dance committee assisting Russo are Yell leaders David Cunningham and LeRoy Sarmont, Bill Bettencourt, Richard Hester, and Deehan.

Bids Sell at $1.50

Bids for the affair went on sale this week. They sell for $1.50 and may be had from the committee or at the main entrance tomorrow night.

Aiding Fleitz and Moore with the sale of tickets is the following committee appointed by Class President George Carter: William Dooms, Kenneth Deehan, Richard Hester, and Harry Hooper.

Saint Mary's students, alumni, and friends who desire to celebrate after the game are urged by John L. Sullivan, ASSMC president, to attend the senior class affair. If successful, the post-California dance may become an annual event, he declared.

The Berkeley club may be reached by following Grove street to Arlington. After nearly four miles on Arlington, the club's garden gates will be reached.

Three Gael Grads Have Leading Part In Minstrel Show

Three graduates of Saint Mary's College hold leading roles in the fourth annual minstrel show of Saint Peter's Parish Glee club to be staged in San Francisco next Monday and Thursday evenings, September 26 and 29.

The veteran song and dance trio of Frank Salmon, '37, Warren Jenkins, '38, and Bill Bourne, '38, will be the star performers of "The Lazy Moon Minstrels of 1938" production.

A cast of over fifty includes Miss Lorraine O'Rourke and Miss Dorothy Bridgewood, prominent in dramatic circles at Holy Names College. The glee club is directed by Mr. Paul McArdle.

Members of the Saint Peter's Glee club entertained here last year at several rallies.

Senior Sketches

By Roger Heidenreich

Today we give you a unique figure for examination. A truly remarkable specimen of a dual personality. A man who says one thing and does another. None other than William Plummer Kirkham. He professes to be a woman hater but this seems a little strange in view of the fact that he keeps—or used to keep—a card file on the fair damsels of his acquaintance. On record in this file he has the age, height, weight, disposition, etc.—Mostly etc. of all the ladies. In fact such a woman hater is he that Kirk is never seen out with the same woman twice. Mr. Kirkham doesn't like dancing, yet he attends all the social affairs and very recently he tried to date the vice-president of the California student body.

Active Student

Known to a few intimate friends as "Why Did I Ever Do It," Kirkham hails from Nevada City, which he openly boasts of as the "best town in the world." To start in and prosaically list all the activities in which are estimable WP has taken part would take too much time and more space than the editor is willing to give us. However, a glance will show that somewhere in the roster of nearly every campus club you can find Kirkham listed as a member. The pre-legal, Dramatic club and the Moraga Society of Catholic poets all have a claim on Kirkham.

In the APGU he is known as the "Mad Dog" and is the terror of the yearly initiations. It is said that fellow members have to restrain him because of his excessive cruelties to the neophytes. During the summer he reads up on Chinese torture to have something new for each batch of recruits.

Non-Italian Member

Among the members of the Dante club, our sketchee is known as Kirkerini. He proudly boasts of being the only non-Italian member of the society and is the star pitcher for their softball team. How he become eligible for this honor is still puzzling some members of the club.

For a hobby the "mad dog" indulges in art. His talents turn to the designing end and he is making the back drop for Homer Cockrill's orchestra for this evening's dance in the gym. Little is known of what it will be save that it is a colosuss. Kirkham also does the cuts for the COLLEGIAN and was associate editor of the Gael last year. He has at various times contributed to the Brickpile and the Moraga Quarterly.

He is a pre-legal student and plans to continue at either Georgetown or Boalt hall at California.

Student body cards sell at $2.50, one of the cheapest rates on the Pacific coast.

An announcement also was made regarding the possibility of the ASSMC chartering a special trip to Los Angeles for the Loyola game on October 9. William Bettencourt, who suggested such a move t othe executive council early this year, and Yell leader Ernest Russo were named in charge of excursion.

Following a treasurer's report by Norman MacPhail and announcements pertaining to tonight's traditional rally-dance in Madigan gymnasium and tomorrow's post-game dance at the Berkeley country club, the meeting was turned over to the yell leaders.

All staff members must be present at the COLLEGIAN meeting Monday, at 12:20 o'clock in G-110.

ALUMNI NOTES

Volunteers Wanted

The "Friends of Saint Mary's" has issued a call for volunteer workers to assist them in the campaign. As the members of the Alumni Association should be more actively interested in this great work than any other group, it is expected that a large corps of volunteer workers will be secured from the membership.

Those in charge of the campaign have announced that a complete foundation for a successful drive has been laid, all of the preliminary work has been done, and nothing remains but to secure sufficient workers to call upon the numerous prospects who have signified their willingness to contribute.

This is real "Saint Mary's action," worthy of the best efforts of every true alumnus and friend of the college, and we earnestly solicit your co-operation.

Volunteers should communicate without delay by telephone or mail with the executive director of the association, C. Wesley Davis, 941 Monadnock Building, San Francisco, Sutter 3321.

Dues Payable

The test of any loyal alumnus is active membership in the Alumni Association. The test of "activity" is the payment of your annual dues.

We do not mean to imply that the activity ceases there. As a matter of fact, the active members support and sponsor and direct, as the case may be, all of the numerous worthy endeavors which the association undertakes.

Therefore, by paying your dues, you not only secure for yourself the several personal benefits which accrue to active membership, such as preferred seats to football contests, subscription to the COLLEGIAN and use of the alumni records, but you also gain the personal satisfaction of knowing that you are an integral part of a splendid body of men vitally interested in the welfare of their college and tireless in their efforts to advance her well-being.

Checks for dues should be made payable to the Saint Mary's Alumni Association and mailed to the Executive Director at Saint Mary's College, California.

The following is a schedule showing the progressive vote of the dues dependent upon the number of years since graduation:

First and second year, $1.00 ('37 and '38).

Third and fourth year, $2.00 ('35 and '36).

Fifth and sixth year, $3.00 ('33 and '34).

Seventh and eighth year, $4.00 ('31 and '32).

Thereafter, $5.00.

Lost and Found

It would seem that many of our members suffer from a severe case of wanderlust to the eternal distraction of our zealous executive director. In such cases we depend to a large extent upon the co-operation of other members to locate alumni who have moved and left no forwarding address.

The following is a partial list of such "lost members" and we request that if you have any information concerning the whereabouts of these men that you communicate your information to Executive Director C. Wesley Davis, 941 Monadnock Building, San Francisco:

William T. Scott, Edward L. Carroll, Tom Rolleri, David G. Wico, Leslie Mello, George Montague, Robert A. Fratus, R. Corbett, William F. L. Heureux, Houston Willett, James T. Killian, Dr. Charles S. Sydenstricker, Thomas J. Walsh, Vernon R. Kennedy, Richard Boyle, Lewis H. Bishop, William R. Stoddard, Shirley F. Irvine, Randolph Smith, Craig E. Chase.

Joseph Tierney '31 is fast becoming the association's finest tax expert. Joe was recently advanced to the position of Chief of the Department of Miscellaneous Taxes in the Internal Revenue Department in San Francisco.

James T. Davis '31, one of the younger politically-minded members was again elected to the Democratic County Central Committee from San Francisco. Jim was once COLLEGIAN editor.

Louis Figeac '31, former Galloping Gael, is now employed by the Federal Farm Security Board in the same city, while his inseparable room-mate, Al Giampaoli, is still with the Bethlehem Steel Corporation.

Several alumni took advantage of an Admission Day holiday to visit the campus and renew old acquaintances. Frank Harris '34, former sports editor and member of the Phoenix at short and second, called to say that he was engaged with an accident insurance company in San Francisco, and doing nicely. He reports that classmate John Day, former circulation manager of the COLLEGIAN will soon marry the sister of Bill Hampton, also a classmate, and general utility man for the paper over a period of years.

Tom McIntosh, Stockton medical student dropped around too. The "Scooter" was packing his bags to depart for Creighton in Omaha, Nebraska. He says it is cold in the winter, but gets some joy out of the fact that he lives on Saint Mary's avenue.

HIGHLIGHTS of SCIENCE

By Boyd Judd

It would be virtually impossible for Germany to build up a secret supply of helium for military airship use under the terms of the Helium Act of 1937 enabling the sale of the light, buoyant gas to foreign companies for commercial purposes.

This is the confirmed belief of experienced American authorities, who, because of the present controversy in government circles, must remain anonymous.

The request for the purchase of 17,900,000 cubic feet of helium gas for the use of the new German zeppelin, the LZ-130, is not excessive, these experts declare.

Here is how this giant figure breaks down in airship operating practice:

The capacity of the LZ-130 is 7,063,000 cubic feet. For 95 per cent inflation at take-off (a necessary practice due to expansion at high altitudes), it will need about 6,700,000 cubic feet.

On the Akron and Macon, U. S. Navy dirigibles, it was found that the diffusion of helium through the gas cells and other losses amounted to about 100 per cent during a year's time. Thus, a year's operation of the LZ-130 will require an additional 6,700,000 cubic feet.

This amount, however, will not all be sent to Germany, if the export license is granted. Half of it will be used at Lakehurst, N. J., U. S. naval airship station and the proposed American terminus for the transatlantic line. There it will be under the control of the U. S. Navy. Moreover, the German half of this replenishing gas need not be delivered all at one time, it is pointed out. It could be sent over, month by month, in small amounts sufficient for immediate needs.

Hence, the shipment of helium to "der Vaterland" may not be such a bad move from the military standpoint after all. In addition, it may help to keep us on good terms with a nation that is apparently ready to make another attempt to tear the rest of the world apart.

Bear Raid at Noon Fizzles Into Frosh False Alarm

"California is here, sound the general alarm!" This was the cry that went up Monday afternoon when three figures were seen atop the water tanks making semaphore signals.

Immediately a hundred or more "armed" students rushed up the hill ready to do battle but found the "invaders" to be innocent freshmen who "just went up to take a look around." After several minutes of cross-examination they satisfactorily identified themselves and were released upon promising never to do it again.

The semaphore signals they explained were merely greetings to their friends on the campus and not messages to their California accomplices.

Program Hindered By Annual Reconditioning

Annual reconditioning of school equipment has prevented any extensive landscaping program thus far in the school year, Clarence C. Hamilton, landscape architect, stated this week.

Maintenance crews have given the water tanks their annual cleaning, ridding them of silt and other impurities collected during the year. Campus roads have been repaired, and the garages which were severely damaged by last winter's rains have been reconditioned and enlarged, Hamilton reported.

Present plans of the landscaper call for a tree planting program when the rainy season opens, it is reported.

Students, Attention!

compete scholastically with any other university in the country.

Mass meetings of the thousand campaign workers were held in San Francisco and in Oakland this week, winding up with a rally at the YMI auditorium at 50 Oak street, this city, on Friday night. These meetings were addressed by Brother Albert, president of the college, as well as Monsignor Francis P. McElroy, clerical chairman, Mrs. A. S. Musante, and Mrs Joseph A. Kennedy, chairmen of the Women's Division, together with Father John F. White, treasurer of the Catholic Actors' Guild.

Archbishop Endorses

His Excellency, Most Reverend John J. Mitty, DD.., Archbishop of San Francisco, has given his full and complete approval to the appeal and has requested every pastor in the Diocese to do everything possible in order to make the campaign an overwhelming success. In a telegram to Monsignor McElroy, sent from New York where he was called to attend the requiem of his dear friend, the late Cardinal Archbishop Patrick J. Hayes, he wrote as follows: "Sincerely regret inability to attend dinner opening campaign for Saint Mary's. Please extend to all present my good wishes and grateful appreciation of whatever assistance and support they may give toward Catholic education, and particularly to assist the Christian Brothers who have served Diocese so zealously and faithfully during past 75 years. I pray God's blessing and hope their efforts will meet with generous response from our people. Sincerest regards."

Contributions Roll In

Pre-campaign contributions having been announced as exceeding $30,000, leaders of the campaign movement confidently expect the quota of $200,000 to be reached by the time the intensive canvass ends on Ocotber 3. Every evening during the week the workers will turn in the results of their work to their local captains, the captains will report to the various chairmen, who in turn will relay their returns directly to Brother Albert.

Besides Monsignor McElroy, Mrs. Musante and Mrs. Kennedy, the thousand workers are being organized and instructed by Major-General Paul B. Malone, organization chairman, Mr. Parker S. Maddux, treasurer, Messrs. C. Wesley Davis, Andrew R. Johnson, Thomas A. Deasy, Sylvester Andriano, Andrew F. Burke, Leo A. Cunningham, Milton Esberg, W. F. Feneran, Angus McDonald, Wallace F. McPhee, James M. Smith, Miss Florentine Schage, Mrs. Arthur Dunlap, Mrs. Gilbert Millar, Mrs. John B. Nuttman, and Miss Ethel Davis.

Sanctuary Society Stages Drive For New Members

A drive for new members is now being staged by members of the Sanctuary Society, according to Harry Hooper, president of the society. Purpose of the campus Sanctuary Society is to increase daily attendance at Mass and frequent reception of the Sacraments, Hooper stated.

At next week's meeting, a schedule, and regulations will be released for present members in the society, and plans will be made for an outing to be held sometime in the later part of the semester, Hooper announced.

Faculty Members Express Opinions On Bufano Statue

Many Refuse to Make Any Comment In Art Controversy

Since the recent publicity given the proposed statue of Saint Francis to be erected on Twin Peaks in San Francisco, unsolicitated faculty opinion pro and con regarding the merits of the statue have been expressed profusely.

Aroused by an article by Westbrook Pegler, columnist of the Scrips-Howard newspapers in which he described the original model as resembling "the principal guest of honor at a stickup," faculty art critics and near-critics have taken up the cry for and against the project.

Brother Cornelius Condemns

Foremost in his opinion regarding the statue has been Brother Cornelius of the local art department who has withstood much "guying" about the subject from fellow faculty members.

The art instructor expressed his condemnation of the work of the artist Bufano in general, stating that his statues, "besides having a revolting Buddhist strain generally, are horrible also when they contradict nature and the spirit of the theme as in the case in this 'Saint Francis'."

Brother Cornelius stated that he agreed with Brother Henry of the English department, who, when he saw in the papers Bufano's earliest figure of Saint Francis, said "the last one was a hold-up, the improved statue is an esquimo."

Commenting on the stainless steel robe that the statue is to have, Brother Cornelius remarked that "while it will look very exotic when seen near, it will not be seen at all when a strong beam of the California sun reflects from its polished stainless steel robe."

Others Express Opinions

Canvassing the campus for opinions from other faculty members regarding the statue, a number of interesting remarks were obtained: James L. Hagerty, professor of philosophy, stated that "after seeing Bufano's statue of Dr. Sun Yat Sin, I would imagine that if the Saint Francis statue were a 100 per cent improvement, it would still be pretty bad."

"I think that more thought should be given to the spiritual significance behind the statue than to the mere art of it" was the comment given by Brother Clement, librarian.

Compared with Angelo

Brother Vantasian, assistant postmaster, believed that "Bufano is in the same position that Michael Angelo was in . . . The critics stated that he was ahead of his times just as they state of Bufano. I believe that in future years, the people will regard the statue as an artistic wonder."

The comment of Brother Cyprian of the English department was that "it is a poor statue—but any statue is better than no statue at all."

Questioning of other faculty members revealed that many had no interest in the controversy or would not like to make comments for not having seen the model.

Nickels of Local Yokels Bring Forth 'A-Tisket, a-Tasket'

Even though millions of people are crying to heaven every day for relief from Ella Fitzgerald singing "A-tisket A-tasket," the students of Saint Mary's are still dropping their nickles into the co-op phonograph to hear it.

It is number one on their hit parade, and has been for several weeks now.

Two numbers are tied for second place, the freshmen favoring "Hi Yo Silver" while the upperclassmen prefer, "I Let a Song Go Out of My Heart," played by Benny Goodman.

A replica of pre-vacation days is to be found in "O' Ma Ma," played by Dick Robertson and left in the phonograph by accident. The owner is expected to remove it in favor of one which will bring in more revenue.

Library Recipient Of Many New Volumes This Fall

Since the beginning of the fall semester, several new books have been added to the shelves of the school library, according to Brother Clement, library director.

Included among the outstanding ones are: Donnelly, F. P., "Literature: the Leading Educator"; Eustace, C. J., "Catholicism, Communism, and Dictatorship"; O'Neill, G., "The World's Classic: The Book of Job"; Nordhoff and Hall, "The Bounty Trilogy" (Fiction); Noll, J. F., "A Catechism on Birth Control"; and the new edition of the World Book Encyclopedia.

Soon to Be Familiar Scene

With the opening of the 1939 World's Fair but a few months away, local students will soon become more intimately acquainted with the Tower of the Sun and the Court of Reflections pictured here. Exhibits in the educational division of the fair, including one from Saint Mary's, will be sponsored by the leading universities and colleges of the west.—Courtesy Oakland Tribune.

Drive Speaker Amuses Students At ASSMC Meeting

Jokes and stories guaranteed to bring laughs were the order of the day as Reverend John F. White of New York addressed the student body in an impromptu meeting last Friday morning.

To the tune of uproarious laughter on the part of the students, Father White demonstrated his ability as a talented entertainer and speaker.

His humorous tales were a prelude to the more serious topic of the meeting, the drive for funds for Saint Mary's college. The visiting priest urged students to get in step with the "Seven Cents a Day" plan and become members of the organization known as "Friends of Saint Mary's."

Father White, who is treasurer of the Catholic Actors' Guild of America, flew by plane from New York to attend the testimonial dinner Thursday evening in honor of Archbishop John J. Mitty. He will remain in the bay area for a short while.

Reverend Duffy Opens Dante Club Cultural Program

Cultural program of the Dante club was ushered in last night, when Reverend Albert T. Duffy, moderator of the local Italian society, addressed members of the club in the first of a series of faculty lecturers, according to Walter Calcagno, president.

Besides hearing Father Duffy, who reviewed the Dante club program, Dante club members planned to continue putting in the library pamphlets on some phase of Italian culture or athletics, according to Calcagno.

Softball games have been arranged with the Maraschi club of the University of San Francisco, Dante Magnani, athletic director of the club, stated, but as yet no definite date has been selected for the game which will be played on the campus.

Keith Paintings Win Unique Spot In 1939 Exposition

The distinction of having the only group of paintings by a non-living artist to be exhibited at the World's Fair next year falls to artist William Keith, according to Miss Jane Amundsen, head of the art exhibit at the Palace of Fine Arts.

After a visit with Brother Cornelius, art instructor, who is recognized as the leading authority in this area on Keith, Miss Amundsen will make arrangements for including the paintings in the Golden Gate Exposition's art exhibit.

"Candida," Starring Ann Harding Comes To Curran

George Bernard Shaw is about to again be served in a magnificent manner when his famed "Candida" is brought to the Curran footlights for a limited engagement of two weeks beginning September 26.

Since the tenative days of 1900 when the Stage Society of London put on "Candida" at the Strand Theater, Mr. Shaw has become Britain's most representative dramatist, while the theater has been blessed with a younger sister, the screen.

London critics have written that Ann Harding's "Candida" is definitely Mr. Shaw's Candida—the east London parson's wife of 1900.

For several seasons, Miss Harding thrilled Londoners in the celebrated part which has been portrayed by Sybil Thorndike and many other brilliant English actresses.

San Francisco theatergoers are due to share in the charm and beauty and intelligence and sympathy which Ann Harding will bring to the Curran stage.

The occasion will mark her return to the footlights after a season in London and in British and American films.

Oakland Theatrical Organization Asks For Local Talent

The City Club theatre guild, sponsored by the Oakland Women's City club, is issuing a call for local talent.

The guild is similar to the little theatres of the eastern cities, and plans five or more productions this season.

An opportunity to learn all phases of the stage is offered; such as make-up, sound and lighting, and script writing.

The guild will not hinder the person going to school, and because of this director Thomas Backos, prominent in the drama field, at the University of California, joins with the present guild to invite any Saint Mary's men to contact him, or any member of the organization at the Oakland Women's City club.

Pre-Med Club Men To Buy Pins; Set Banquet Date

For the first time since its beginning, the Pre-medical club is to have official pins, according to an announcement made by Clifton Rose, president of the club.

These pins will bear the medical emblem, the Cadusces, according to Rose. They were voted for by the members of the club at a meeting held last week.

Plans have been formulated for a banquet to be held in Oakland on Saturday evening, October 1, Rose stated. The time and place of this affair have not as yet been chosen. Especially invited to the dinner will be Rodney Stetson, former president of the club, and Dr. John M. Murphy, college physician.

Oakland Sports Head Addresses Local Journalists

Speaking on the subject of journalistic personalities he has known and met during his experience as a newspaperman, Al Santoro, sports editor of the Post-Enquirer, addressed a gathering of Saint Mary's students in De La Salle lounge this week.

He was introduced to his audience by Thomas J. Foudy, journalism instructor and sports publicity director of the college.

Emphasizing the fact that he did not intend to stress the "finer points" of newspaper reporting and editing, Mr. Santoro in his talk told of such personalities as Arthur Brisbane, Hy Baggerly, "Scoop" Gleeson, Tom Lennon, "Believe It or Not" Ripley, and "Tad," outstanding cartoonist, among others.

Nearly 100 students gave up their noon-hour period to hear the noted sports authority speak.

Mr. Santoro was the first of several newspapermen whom the newly created department of journalism will bring to the campus to speak to Saint Mary's men, according to Mr. Havelock Hunter, head of the department.

Brother Leo Lecture: This Evening at Woodland Academy

An alumni lecture to be given this evening at the Holy Rosary academy, Woodland, will be the first of three concluding lectures of Brother Leo's September series of public addresses.

At the Life Sciences building, University of California, Brother Leo will deliver the first in a series of ten lectures on "The Vital Study of Literature" next Wednesday evening.

"The Vital Study of Literature" will also be his topic in an address to be given at 540 Powell street, San Francisco, on September 30.

Athletes Included In List of Twelve Freshmen Debaters

When they come, they come in dozens was the impression given William Simon, debate instructor this week, when 12 freshmen submitted their names for debating. Included in this group is a number of football players.

Pointing toward the varsity debate team of next year, special attention will be given freshmen this year, Mr. Simon indicated. Several tentative dates are being arranged with the Universities of Santa Clara and Stanford.

Two debates already have been definitely scheduled for the yearling class, one with the University of California and the other an interclass affair with the sophomores.

John Epperson and Carl Nelson have been selected to oppose the California team on October 18 on the subject "Resolved: that the sales tax should be repealed and the tax levied on the higher income groups."

Horway Witteman and Louis DeAlva will meet two sophomores, as yet not selected, on the subject "Resolved: that Hitler is justified in his present action in Czechoslovakia."

Pre-Legal Men Seek Establishment of Law Library Here

An attempt will be made this year by the Pre-Legal society to establish a law library on the campus.

This was the announcement made by Joe McCarthy at a meeting held this week to welcome new members. Other plans include the presentation of a drama in De La Salle lounge sometime this year. The name of the play and its cast will be given at an early date.

Saint Mary's Club Notes

A large delegation of rooters will go to the Loyola-Saint Mary's game in Los Angeles. A committee composed of Ronald MacDonald, Charles Pohley, and Joe Mc Elligott, will lead the gang, which entrains from the Ferry building on Friday evening, October 7, at 7:40 p.m.

Members desiring to make the trip at specially attractive rates should get into communication with J. Vincent Kennedy, who can be reached by phone at DElaware 2244.

Stay-at-homes from the Loyola trip will band together in a big picnic with their families and friends. Saint Mary's Justin Grove will be the scene of activities.

Joe Growney, Fred Adams and Michael Mulcahy are on the committee arranging this get-together, the principal features of which will be dancing, swimming and a broadcast of the Lion-Gael game in the afternoon.

Regular weekly luncheon at the New Shanghai Cafe, 453 Grant avenue, 12 noon, Monday, September 26. Be there and hear the Monday Noon Quarterbacks Association. Tommy Eltringham promises some very interesting observations on the Cal game. A fine lunch and very reasonable.

———

The club has a loyal supporter in James McKinley who operates his grocery store at Carl and Stanyan streets, just 2 blocks from Kezar Stadium. Mac's store is the football fans depot for refreshments both before and after the game. Tell your fellow members "Meet me at McKinley's."

———

Hope we'll see the following members at the next meeting. We have missed you recently: Sam P. Cava, San Jose, John P. Delehanty, Dr. Eugene LeFevre, Dr. William Faulkner, William J. McCormack, Chas. H. Cornelius, Vincent J. Daly, Vincent Sgarlato, San Bruno, Mark H. Bradley.

The membership committee would like each member to bring in a new member.

Hydro-electric projects of the west will be displayed in the hall of western states at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition on Treasure Island.

College Debaters To Perform At Fair in '39

To Broadcast Debate; Williams New Manager

Lending distinction to the local forensics department, Saint Mary's college has been selected as one of the institutions whose debaters will perform in a broadcast from Treasure island during the 1939 Golden Gate exposition, William Simon, debate coach, was informed this week by the state committee on education for the fair.

The probability of this debate being heard on a nation-wide hookup was announced by Mr. Simon.

Williams Appointed Manager

Plans for the event will be worked over with John Williams, newly appointed debate manager, Simon stated. Williams was appointed manager by the APGU upon the resignation of Herschel Smyth. The new manager was a varsity debater last year, taking part in the Pacific states debate congress and being chairman of the high school congress held on the campus.

Schedule Debate Program

A varsity debate program with six institutions scheduled has been announced by forensics heads. Three engagements have been arranged for with the Newman club at the University of California, and others are pending with the California varsity squad.

A tentative schedule includes, besides California, Stanford, University of San Francisco, Santa Clara, San Jose State, and San Quentin prison.

Sophomores and freshmen will tangle in their annual affair within three weeks, Simon indicated. This debate will be judged by members of the faculty not as yet selected. A meeting was held this week for all freshmen interested in debating.

One million dollars is being spent on the illumination program at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition, where "black light" will be used for the first time.

A staff of 16, including musical and theatrical production experts, is engaged in arranging more than 3000 special entertainment events at the 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition.

1863 — DIAMOND JUBILEE YEAR — 1938

We Feel Sorry for "Our Sturdy Golden Bear"

WE feel sorry for "our sturdy Golden Bear" from California, for tomorrow the poor Berkeley Bear may be due for a surprise when it clashes with the Galloping Gael from the historic valley of the Moragas.

We feel sorry for "poor California" because it may have been building up for a terrific let-down on the morrow.

Heavily favored to repeat its act of 1937, the Allisonian Bear may be a little too cocky, putting it bluntly.

At Berkeley's Memorial stadium tomorrow afternoon a confident Moraga Galloper will attempt to slaughter this Bear. Over the rim of Memorial stadium will be the ghosts of former underdog Gaels who defeated California Bears more often than not by sheer courage and fight, two marked characteristics of all Gaels wearing Red and Blue.

This confident Gael of 1938 knows if he is to win, it must be accomplished with this typical Saint Mary's courage, fight, and determination to conquer.

He knows this, and he is ready for the fattened California Bear.

Saint Mary's can win. But win or lose, more than 65,000 people will witness 60 minutes of the courageous and clean brand of football that Saint Mary's teams always produce.

And these same fans will see a rooting section, although dwarfed by the massed thousands across the field, which will support its team from the opening whistle to the closing gun. More important, they will see a rooting section that conducts itself in a gentlemanly and sportsmanlike manner.

Whether or not the green but confident Gael deflates the puffed-up Bear is something which only tomorrow can tell. But whatever the result, be it victory or defeat, the students and fans of Saint Mary's stand solidly behind their fighting team.

May the better team win, and may that team be Saint Mary's!

On to Victory!

Student Cooperation in Fund Drive Is Necessary

READY TO GO into action on Monday is an army of 1000 campaign workers, members of the association of the "Friends of Saint Mary's," having as its aim the reduction of the outstanding debt of the college.

Present plans call for a complete canvassing of the northern California area. However, it is far too much to expect the drive workers to contact everyone who might be interested in eliminating or reducing the debt incurred by Saint Mary's when it was relocated in the Moraga valley.

Student participation in the drive from a financial standpoint is necessarily rather limited, but they can aid the campaign workers by making contacts that otherwise might not be made, by furnishing leads to drive headquarters, and by informing those with whom they come in contact of the existence of the fund campaign.

Active cooperation of this type, although it requires no financial outlay on the part of the student, although it does not make heavy demands on his time, is nevertheless valuable in making the campaign a success. If the "Friends of Saint Mary's," many of whom never attended the college, are willing to do so much, it is not amiss to ask the students to contribute their bit towards a drive that must go over the top.

He Took the Words Right Out of Our Mouths!

To the Editor:

There seems to be little doubt in the minds of the general public that the University of California student body is made up of a bunch of hoodlums and brainless youngsters. Ask someone who is not connected with the University why he thinks so, and his answer probably will be, "Look at the way they tear up Berkeley after rallies and at the way they act at football games."

The last part of this statement is the part that hurts. When the actions of the rooting section are so ill-mannered and unsportsmanlike that not only outsiders from other schools but also our own alumni, are disgusted, it is time for action.

The University of California is one of the most outstanding schools in the country, but its rooting section has been, for the past two years especially, one of the worst.

The Saint Mary's game is only a little more than a week from today. Let's start the year right by remembering that good sports on the field deserve good sportsmanship in the rooting sections.

Moraga Musings

The fame of the Muser is spreading. Local yokels who visited points of interest in the Bay area (Holy Names, SFCW, Dominican, etc.) found that in many cases their reputations as characters had preceded them. The Muser always has been of the opinion that this column is one of the most informing hereabouts.

Did You Know That . . .

Tonight and tomorrow evening the operatives of the All Knowing One will be busy computing points scored by contestants in the fall running of the Harris Trophy Derby. In case you are in doubt, we take this opportunity to inform you that it is not necessary to fill out an entry blank to enter the competition.

Brusatti and Wilson of the frosh Brusatti's and Wilson's don't beat around the mulberry bush when they want a ride home. It seems that the two freshies cruised around a Berkeley dance until they found a girl with a car, and then proceeded to ask for a ride as far as the tunnel. The Muser is certain that such an event will never happen again. Next time the boys will know enough to get a ride all the way back.

John "Rooster" Sullivan has the makings of a great politician. The ASSMC prexy attended a church social recently at which the fellows were outnumbered three to one according to conservative estimates. Our boy John managed to dance with everyone but three, and only the lack of time prevented him from making the rounds completely.

The senior class did a first class job of guarding the campus against invasion by Berkeley Bears.

Anybody found wandering around the campus with a paint brush or bucket during the past week was asked to show his union button.

According to last minute reports Ken Meitz has emerged as an outstanding favorite in the Harris Trophy Derby. Formerly a dark horse "Otto" has moved in ahead of Colonel Bill Bloodgood, pre-season favorite.

The Muser expects all of his characters to outyell the mugs sitting across the field from them tomorrow, and that if they don't, he'll print the truth about all of them.

Wally Gerard and Milo Millicivich think that the winding paths that encircle Lake Merrit are fairly nice spots to spend a Sunday afternoon.

Outlooks and Insights

A Sign of the Times

Headlined news is not always the most significant news. Tucked away in obscure spots in a few newspapers is an item to the effect that a group of Belgian Catholic bishops have disapproved of the action of certain groups over there who voice "conscientious objection" to peace-time military service. The bishops insist that such service should be given in response to a legitimate command of civic authority. Obviously, drilling is not war.

They don't stop there, however. They point out that it remains the right of the citizens, according to Catholic teaching, to refuse to participate in an unjust war. In case of doubt, the presumption is in favor of the government. So if you are not morally certain that the war is unjust it is your duty to take up arms when your rulers tell you to do so.

Such, of course, is the traditional teaching of the Catholic Church. The principle is adamant. But there can be a variety interpretations. Some theologions hold that under modern conditions no war can be a just war in the sense of squaring with the requirements laid down by Saint Thomas. Certainly even the most conservative thinkers would say that some modern wars are manifestly unjust; therefore the individual citizen could and should refuse to participate in them.

But as to peace-time military service? As the bishops point out, it is not war. But suppose peace-time military service is active preparation for unjust war? Might it not be put down, in theological language, as a near occasion of sin? Such occasion the individual Christian is obliged to avoid.

The fact that conscientious objectors are sufficiently numerous to warrant the statement from the bishops seems to indicate that the forgotten man in Belgium—and elsewhere—is opposed to taking up arms. Let that notion spread and there can be no more wars. Already in our own country there is a commendably strong sentiment against our embroiling ourselves in the next European conflict that may come along. And it's dollars to doughnuts that if we are opposed to taking part in foreign warfare and let the world know it, at least two of the European "democracies" will be extremely loath to unleash the war dogs.

But, but, but. Let the newspapers get howling and the spellbinding orators start their emotional appeal, let the war drums throb and our hotel lobbies fill up with second lieutenants in snappy uniforms, and then most of us will forget all about conscience!

The Bystander

By Bill Glackin

The Bystander is fortunate enough to room on the west side of the senior dorm. Now and then, when he gathers up the courage to lift himself on his elbow and peer out at the outside world, he has a particularly good view of the two great, green water tanks halfway up the hill in back of the college. The other day, after the water in the tanks had gone through one of its regular overflow periods, he happened to look in that direction. What he saw pained his soul. He had seen it before, and had been irked before, but it seemed this day that never had the great yellow "C" on the left tank gleamed so brightly.

Three years ago, when the campus defenses were under the great Cromarty, the boys—boys is the word—from California made one of their annual visits to the tanks. Before they were caught they succeeded in painting a great yellow "C," all of ten feet high, on the left tank. On the same morning steps were taken to clean the unholy letter from the wood. Somebody must have stumbled, because a week later, when the water had overflowed again, you could see the "C" almost as plainly as before. And you can still see it.

It is barely possible that Joe Hurley, current minister for defense, has his own reason for wanting the canary letter (cf. N. Hawthorne) on the tank. Quite conceivably the sight of it may raise freshman blood to the boiling defensive pitch needed for proper rebuff of the invaders. Or, fox-like, he may reason that any of our "friendly rivals" who get as far as the tanks will think that somebody has beaten them to it and go home without lifting a brush.

If this be true then the Bystander agrees to forget the whole thing—until next week. On next Monday morning, however, he will be up bright and reasonably early to begin a campaign for the restoration of the honor of Saint Mary's—at least to the extent of wheedling a few iron men out of the student treasury for a can of green paint. It's about time somebody painted that thing out.
